

A century after its founding, Rotary International maintains a commitment to fighting poverty, hunger and illiteracy and to preserving our environment. But Rotary should be known especially for one project: Polio Plus. Building on the precedent of wiping out smallpox, Rotary chose to wipe out polio which crippled President Roosevelt and many other Americans. With the help of the United Nations and the U.S. Government, Rotary's vision of a polio-free world is nearly complete. As a former member of the Highland Park Morning Rotary Club, I am a proud co-sponsor of H.Res.142, recognizing Rotary's 100 years of service to our nation and our world.
